

Billis Cons ASIC that he needs an interpreter. English is no good O, or so he says. Reality is Billis was educated in New Zealand for his entire school life.

SCROLL DOWN

Billis about to enter the ASIC Star Chamber as ASIC attempts to “Extort” some “Truth” from the ex “New Zealander” Billis.

Claims – “Me No Speaky Aussie, me Croatian fighter pilot – Hero of Balkans War”.

When in fact his mother got him out of Croatia as a child, found her way to New Zealand. Billis was in fact totally – totally educated in New Zealand. His education was furthered in W.A. prisons – then his Diploma in dirtying-up the witnesses against him was taught by Colin “Circles” Pace – Billis then “Did” take some flying lessons in New Zealand in a Cessna.

Imagine flying a Cessna in N.Z. speaking to the tower in Croatian. ASIC will never “Catch” this creature – hand him over to the R.S.L. they know how to handle War Hero Impostors.

Now those alert readers out there will have picked up that Billis had more than one Solicitor mentioned in the excerpts from the ASIC “Toy” interrogation of “Billis” – Yes that Ex Cop – former trainee of old Circles himself appears on third line of first page shown as Page 3. Yes, Mr Commissioner, just another coincidence all means nothing!! Yet again.

MR THORNE: Yes. We'll do this one document and then we'll go. Yes, 908.
So 17 - - -

WITNESS: Privilege.

INTERPRETER: In connection with what they did - ASIC did - yes, they came. One was a drug dealer, the other was in Croatia. He extorted a lot of money from the bank (indistinct) and a friend of Gary Bertram - some - I can't think of all the names. Gary - his friend McLernon - a friend of Gary - they 10 wanted for me to give them a million dollars. Those who did this (indistinct) professor has. It's like penicillin for (indistinct) 50 years ago when they (indistinct) what they've done now is a disgrace.

MR THORNE: Perhaps we could just go back a step because I don't think we 15 got the whole translation there. You mentioned something about a million dollars. What's that to do with?

WITNESS: Privilege.

20 INTERPRETER: McLernon - he came to me. If I don't give him a million dollars he'll (indistinct) the journalist and then he'll disgrace my name and if that doesn't fix me (indistinct) Gary Bertram and he'll get around that. Then (indistinct) came, McLernon (indistinct) Nigel Burch who tried to rob the bank or extort the bank of 10,000,000 marks in Croatia. McLernon, and McDonald 25 the drug user and the other one wanted a million dollars from me. It looks like Spanish inquisition. This is 10 times here worse than in Russia in the time Australian. We had a bank, Dresner bank; we had Degussa, we had DSF. We came to Schrodgers. The wanted to come with us. Now what they - they were greedy (indistinct)

MS McDIARMID: Excuse me, Mr Billis. It's very difficult to listen to the translator and I'm sure the translation people are having some difficulty as well.
If you would allow the translator to answer, translate your answer, and then continue rather than speaking over the top of him.

35

WITNESS: Okay. So sorry.

INTERPRETER: I was in Fremantle having a coffee. McLernon came like 40 this and said I'd get a bullet in the head. Then I disregarded that. He told me if I didn't give him the money there'd be big story, he'd put me in the paper.

WITNESS: Privilege again.

45 INTERPRETER: He came over there where we were, came with the car, start to take photos of me and said he'd cut my throat. Then I took a baseball bat and as soon as they start I chase him in the car with the baseball bat. Never see it in

MR RASSOOL: Which means he cannot then discuss anything with Mr Andrews. I also note for the record that in his letter dated 30 May 2003 to ASIC, document P00170883, Mr Andrews confirmed that Mr Billis required the attendance of a Croatian interpreter at this examination, as although 5 Mr Billis speaks English, it is not his first language and he has concerns that his level of comprehension is not adequate when dealing with questions of a technical or a delicate nature, and by letter dated 27 May 2003 to Mark Andrews and Associates, document P00170884, ASIC confirmed that an accredited Croatian interpreter would be in attendance at the examination.
 10 ASIC has retained the services of Mr Peter Radanovich, an accredited interpreter from Translators International, who is present here today for that purpose. Mr Radanovich, could you confirm that you are proficient in the Croatian language?

15 INTERPRETER: Yes, I passed the examination from NAATI, accredited level 2.

MR RASSOOL: Could you briefly tell us your experience in interpreting? How long have you been an interpreter?

20 INTERPRETER: Since about 1970.

MR RASSOOL: Mr Shaw, is there any problem with Mr Radanovich? Could you confer with your client?

25 MR SHAW: As a general interpreter, no. The only concern may be technical legal jargon, but I think we should see how we go and if there's any difficulty, deal with that as it arises.

30 MR RASSOOL: Mr Shaw, there's only one other preliminary issue as to procedure before we commence. As Mr Billis has some understanding of the English language, I propose that we proceed without each question being interpreted and Mr Billis will indicate if he does not understand the question, if that's acceptable.

35 MR SHAW: Mr Billis would like everything to be interpreted to him.

MR RASSOOL: Each question? Is that correct? Very well then, we will proceed on that basis. Mr Billis, the notice which I referred to earlier relates to 40 an investigation into suspected contraventions of sections 184, 206A, 606, 671B of the Corporations Law in the period 29 March 1997 to 14 July 2001. Do you need that interpreted to you?

45 INTERPRETER: This is the one for the writing out of the notes.

MR RASSOOL: Yes. Could you just say no for the record, otherwise it will come in on the transcript?
